About 11 o'clock last night Officer Wolfe found a dead white male infant on 16th street, between H street and Connecticut avenue. He notified the coroner. Marion S. Eubank, convicted of larceny in February last and sentenced to one year in the penitentiary after the expiration of a sentence to jail, was pardoned yesterday. Yesterday the bill for divorce filed in September last by Harriet V. Clary against Charles V. Clary, on the ground of bad treatment, was dismissed by plaintiff's attorneys-Messrs. Stone and Hanley. The parking commission has adopted a resolution of thanks to Mr. W. W. Hubbell "for his short, pointed, and concise statement, in favor of protecting and caring for the English sparrows," which statement was published in THE STAR a short time since. Mr. J. T. K. Plant (P. S. C.) at Franklin Ledge, Knights of Pythias, last evening, delivered a lecture on the origin of the order. A familiar face was in the Criminal Court room this morning-that of Mrs. Marilla M. Ricker, of New Hampshire, who is well known as "Mrs. Lockwood's apprentice."

THE HORT:CULTURAL SOCIETY of the District of Columbia met last night, the president, Mr. Jno. A. Baker, in the chair, and Mr. J. T. C. Clark, secretary pro tem, with a full attendance of members, including a number of ladies. Mr. Thomas Smithson was elected a member. Prof. Thomas Taylor proceeded to deliver an interesting and instructive lecture on Cryptogamous Plants. He had many diagrams and drawings, some of which had been on exhibition at the Centennial Exhibition, at Philadelphia, for which be received a diploma. He stated that Cryptogamous plants are divided into five classes, namely: Mosses, lichen, algea, ferns and fungus, and described each of them fully, and gave a sketch or their peculiar forms on the blackboard. His description of the various kinds of mushrooms, their growth and formation, the kinds edible and those unwholesome, and how to cultivate them for table use, was very interesting. The common fungus, known as the puff-ball, in its green state, is one of the most palatable and nutritious of these plants when sliced up and fried in the same manner that meat is cooked. He described them in such a manner that a child could not go astray in selecting the wholesome and palatable ones for cooking. The various kinds of mould are species of the fungus. The black mould, so destructive to grapes, the petato rot, also the common blue mould, peculiar to stale bread and upon cheese. were all fully described. These latter are not injurious to health, their only effect upon the stemach being to produce fermentation. A discussion followed upon the culture of mushrooms, in which many took part. Mr. Saul stated that the mushroom is the nearest approach to meat, when cocked, of any vegetable known to man. The chair announced Prof. Riley as essayist for the next meeting, and Prof. R. stated that his subject would be "The Relation of Plants and Insects." Mr. Saul, who as usual had a fine

CHARLEY GOODMAN IN TROUBLE IN BALTI-MORE.—The Baltimore Herald of yesterday has the following in reference to Charley Goodman, who, it will be remembered, was some few months ago pardoned for an assault and battery with intent to kill Lem Weeden, in this

"Goodman, in company with a man from Frederick county, and two girls, went to the Hoffman House, at an early hour yesterday morning, and after a short while left without ordering anything. On the way out they met Moor, who asked them if they paid for what they ordered. Words ensued, and a scuffle took place, during which Goodman was struck on the head with a beer glass and a chair. He received a severe scalp wound several inches in length. Officer O'Neill, at the order of Moor, took Goodman to the Western police station. ile was released on bail for the action of the criminal court."

OUTRAGEOUS ASSAULT ON A MARYLAND WIFE. About 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon a message reached police headquarters that a white man had attempted to commit an outrage upon a woman at Seabrook, on the Baltimore and Po-tomac railroad, in Prince George's county, Md. about twelve miles from this city; that the man was coming in the direction of this District, and requesting that the police be notified to watch for him. He was described as about 35 years old, in dark clothes, black cloth cap, heavy cowhide boots, and a bundle under his arm. The police were notified, and later they arrested a man, who gave his name as Porter, he answering the description of the party. The name of the complainant is Mrs. Wesley. wife of the track foreman at Seabrook. She was approached while a short distance from her house by a man, who seized and dragged her to some bushes and threw her to the ground, when he held her by the throat until he thought her speechless, but when he released his grip, she gave utterance to a succession of screams, which were heard by some men, who ran to her assistance, and the man escaped. The prisoner is awaiting identifica-

THE PHILADELPHIAN WHO WAS ROBBED OF

$980 BY TWO COLORED GIRLS.-In the Police Court to-day Eliza Jones and Jenny Harris, two colored girls, residents of "the Division," were arraigned on the charge of stealing $980 from John Morrissy. This is the case heretofore mentioned in THE STAR. Complainant is from Philadelphia, a man of middle age. He testified that he was partially intoxicated, and met these girls on 13% street. They induced him to go to their room, where they fastened the door and forcibly took his money from him. He was in the house but a few minutes, had been drink-ing pretty freely, and the night was dark. When he got out of doors he met a policemen, to whom he stated what had happened, and the policeman told him he had better go home—he did not believe that he had lost any such sum. He afterwards went to Rooney's and drank more beer. This occurred Saturday night last. John Copps, colored, living at the corner of 15th and E streets, testified that between 10 and 11 o'clock Saturday night these two girls entered his house, and spreading out some money said: "Come here, John, and count this money." He got up and counted $950 in hundred and fifty dollar bills. They divided the money and left with it, promising to give him some of it when they came back. He asked them where they got it, and they said they had found it. He divided it for them at their request. He was lying down when they opened the door and came in. His lamp was lighted. He hadn't seen so much big money since the fall of Richmond. Detective McDevitt next gave testimony as to what he knew about the case. He recited how he and Officer Shilling went to Bal-timore and found these girls and brought them back to this city, when the colored man Copps recognized them as the girls for whom he counted the money. They both at once accused Copps of purloining one of the $50 bills while counting the money, which he denied. Witness had recovered $23 from the Harris girl in Baltimore and two $100 bills from a colored woman named Johnson. At this point the court decided that the case go to the grand jury.

"HE LIVES IN WASHINGTON."-The Baltimore American of this morning says: "The coroner's jury had scarcely left the northeastern stationhouse, after investigating the murder case. when the front door opened gently, and a young girl about 20 entered, followed by an elderly lady. The young lady was very neatly but not gaudily dressed, and her face was quite pretty, but showed care, and her eyes were red with weeping. The elderly lady, apparently the mother, was dressed in black. On inquiring for the interval of the state the justice they were shown into his office, and in response to his inquiry the young lady stepped up to his desk, and. in a faltering voice, said: 'Squire, I want to see if I can get any re-dress from the man who has deceived me; I want him to help support my child.' 'How old is it? asked the justice. 'About 15 months,' answered the girl. 'Over a year-it is too late; you cannot get anything from him now;' answered the justice, shaking his head; 'you should have come before.' 'I would, sir, but he came to our house two months ago, and said the 1st of December he would help me. He lives in Washington, and he gets good wages, but he has sent me nothing,' said the girl. 'He is not 21,' put in the old lady, who up to this time had been silent. Silently and sadiy they retraced their steps through the front office, out the door, and were lost to view."

ACTION AGAINST THE DISTRICT .- To-day, in the Circuit Court, Judge Cartter, the case of Mrs. Catherine Beall against the District, action for damages (a broken arm) alleged to have been sustained by falling over the stump of a telegraph pole on 7th street above R. I. avenue, was concluded. In this case the defence was that the stump in question had never been brought to their notice; that it was left there by the telegraph company.

MATRIMONIAL INFELICITY .- Yesterday, in the Equity Court, Judge MacArthur, in the case of Bridget Durham agt. Tyler V. Durham—bill for a separation on the ground of bad treatment, &c—dismissed the bill without prejudice to the right of either party instituting proceedings for the custody of the child. The complainant entered an appeal to the General Term. THE CAMP MEETING ASSOCIATION organized at the camp meeting in August last, on Jackson's woods camp ground (on the Baltimore and Potomac railroad, about 25 miles from the city). have made arrangements to purchase the farm with a view of making it a permanent camp ground for the church, and early in the spring they will commence to improve it.

TO THE CONSUMPTIVES-Let those who languish under the fatal severity of our climate through any pulmonary complaint, or even those who are in decided consumption, by no means despair. There is a safe and sure remedy at hand, and one easily tried. "Wilbor's Comound of Cod Liver Oil and Lime," without possessing the very nauseating flavor of the oil as heretofore used, is endowed by the Phosphate of Lime with a healing property which renders the oil doubly efficacious. Remarkable testi-monials of its efficacy shown to those who desire to see them Sold by A. B. Wilbor, Chemist, Boston, and all druggists.

FOR UPWARDS OF THIRTY YEARS Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for children. It corrects acidity of the stomach, relieves wind colic, regulates the bowels, cures dysentery and diarrhoa, whether arising from teething or other causes. An old and well-tried remedy.

In addition to the merit of the Quality, Style and Lowness of price of our CLOAKS, we commend the fact to the attention of the public that our efforts to empley persons resident here deserves recognition and support, especially when we offer them better made, trimmed and fitting garments than those of Northern manufacture, which are made without any knowledge as to who is to wear them, while ours going direct to our own friends and patrons, self-interest alone would prompt us in seeing that nothing that would tend to enhance their worth should eacape our attention.
